Your State Bar Is Moving Soon

Your new State Bar office in Phoenix is about to open, with even more amenities for visiting attorneys. The Bar expects to be in its new building at 4201 North 24th Street during the week of March 28.

During March, most meetings at the current Phoenix location (111 W. Monroe) will be canceled so that furniture can be moved and boxes packed. All other services will continue to be provided.

NEW FEATURES

The State Bar will occupy the second and third floors of its new three-story building. Workers are in the process of making modest improvements to better accommodate visiting attorneys and the State Bar staff.

Once the Bar's building is fully operational, it should be more convenient than ever for attorneys to meet and conduct business. The 24th Street location has more conference rooms to accommodate meetings for sections, committees and CLE events. The new site also includes:

THE BAR'S NEW BUILDING

Open for Business:	The week of March 28
Address:	4201 N. 24th Street, Suite 200, Phoenix, AZ 85016-6288
Description:	69,000 square-foot three-story, red brick building with parking structure on 3+ acres.
Occupants:	The Bar will occupy 60 percent of the building; tenants lease the remainder.

- Easy-access parking
- Meeting rooms for arbitrations
- Wireless Internet connection
- Photocopy machine
- Fax machine
- Basic office supplies
- Quiet areas for phone calls

All the State Bar's phone numbers will remain the same.

The new building is just north of Indian School Road on the east side of 24th Street. The Bar is moving because its 11-year lease has expired at its current location, and the organization faced a significant increase in its lease costs.

The Bar will occupy about 60 percent of the new building, with the remainder already leased to tenants, whose payments will generate income for the State Bar. The Arizona Foundation for Legal Services & Education will be one of those tenants.

Details about a grand opening event will be forthcoming. The Bar welcomes all attorneys to use and visit your improved facilities. AZ
